NASHVILLE, August 4 .- General Stoneman ent a force of cavalry, consisting of Long's and sgrange's Br gades, 3200 strong, on the 26th , under command of General Edward McCook, destroy the Macon and Western Railroad.

They had destroyed 18 miles of the road, and charted to capture a train of 500 wagons, going from Atlanta to Macon or Columbus. McCook aptured this train near Newman's, with 500 men, luding 27 officers; and wagons laden with aluable stores, including liquors, and the private opers of General Hood and others.

After possessing themselves of what they vanted the wagons were burned, and McCook warted to return with the prisoners and 3000 nules, but was overtaken by a Robel force under General Ransom, so large as to completely sur-

Special to The Evening Telegraph.

BALTIMORE, August 5 .- Fast Day was approprintely observed here. All business was suspended, and the churches were well attended. Rumors about Hagerstown being burnt are totally false. The Rebels are not there, and it is believed that there are none now this side of the Potomac. Their force in the Shenandoah Valley and vicinity, ready for another incursion, is believed to be about forty thousand.

They are undoubtedly concentrating for auother invasion of Pennsylvania and Maryland. There has been no fight near Cumberland. There s nothing later by the Norfolk boats. Our army holds the same position as formerly. To-day's Washington Chronicle publishes the following

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, August 2, A. M.—Since the unsuccessful assault on Petersburg, nothing has occurred to mar the quiet which succeeded it. Now and then a gun quiet which succeeded it. Now and then a gun-ie freet, but generally speaking, the utmost tran-quillity prevails. The following is a semi-official report of our losses on the occasion referred to:— 9th Corps, 1st Division, Ledlie, 687; 2d Divi-sion, Potter, 800; 3d Division, Wilcox, 600; 4th Division, Ferrero, 1700; 10th Corps, Turner's Division, 450; 18th Corps, 200; 2d and 5th Corps, 200; total, 4537.

Court of Investigation is now sitting, General Hancock presiding, which it is trusted will throw the responsibility of the late failure on the light shoulders.

The rumor that the enemy had been detected in an earnest endeavor to mine our works is, I am informed, correct. The attempt has been made in front of Warren's Corps, but that Gene-ral is too skilful an engineer to be caught mapping. Hence at least three counter-shafts have been sunk, and when the Rebels succeed in blowing as up, we give the Richmond papers the privilege of making a note of it. Some movements of importance are going on ere, but I will not refer to them. You will hear here, but I will not refer to them. You will hear of them ere long.

Headquarters Army of the Potomac, August 2, P. M.—Nothing of importance has transpired the past twenty-four hours. Picket firing in front of the 9th Corps has been kept up almost incessantly, with some shelling at intervals. The enemy have been busy in repairing their lines, and our skirmishers annoy them as much as possible. Little damage is done, how-ever, as they do most of their work at night.

Considerable discussion is indulged in among both officers and men as to who is responsible for the late "hasco," and when the Court of In-quiry, which I learn is to convene to inquire into the matter, has performed its duty, we shall probably learn the reason why a plan that promised so well resulted so disastrously. The exact amount of our losses in the action is now ascer-tained to be 3640.

FROM THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC. HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, August 4 .- Nothing of interest has taken place during the past two days, and very little picket firing is being indulged in at present.

An officer of a colored regiment is reported to have shot one of his men yesterday at the Commissary depot, and is under arrest.

In my despaich of the 31st I stated that the colored division engaged in the battle was under command of General White. This was a mistake, General Perrero being in command of his own division. General White acted as Chies of Staff to General Burnside during the engagement.

The Spaulding put on a full head of steam and ran past the battery, returning the fire from two pieces of cannon on board, belonging to the troops. One of the Rebel shots passed through the wheel-house of the Spaulding, and another struck the barge, killing five horses, but doing no other damage as far as known,

Several other hoats which were in advance o the Spaulding were also fired upon, but with what result is not known. Arrival of General Hooker. Major-General Hooker, accompanies by Colonel Fessenden, Major Lawrence, and Captain Statson and Taylor, of his personal staff, arrived yesterday. In the evening he was serenaded by the band of the Veteran Reserve Corps. A large number of his friends and admirers assembled at the same time to greet him, and upon his appearance the General was received with round after round of enthusiastic cheering. In response to repeated calls for a speech, he said :-

"I did not come here to make a speech, nor should you expect one. If this Rebeilion was to have been put down by speeches, enough have been made since its commencement to put down forty rebellions. This war is only to be ended with bullets and bayonets, and though I do not personally know some of you, yet there will be abundant opportunity before the termi-nation of the war to make your acquaintsnoe upon the field."

The General was frequently interrupted during his remarks with hearty demonstrations of ap-

Rebel Mining. There are good reasons for believing that the Rebels are mining one of our earthworks in front of Petersburg. Measures have been taken which will render operations of that sort futile. Paying the Soldiers.

Many of the regiments before Petersburg have not been paid for six months-none have received a cent for over four mouths. In consequence the greatest suffering and dissatisfaction prevails among the rank and file. It is of the most urgent importance that these devoted national defenders should instantly receive their blood-carned money, and Secretary Fessenden is bending every energy to accomplish that end. WASHINGTON, August 4 .- The following is a rerbutim copy of the opinion of the Hon. William Whiting, Solicitor of the War Department, which was inclosed to General Sandford of New York, relative to the exemption of the one hundred days' volunteers from the draft.

This opinion having been promulgated by the secretary of War as governing the future action of the War Department, is applicable to the other States who furnished troops under that call. It will be seen at once that the errors of Governor Andrew, of Massachusetts, as well as General Sandford, of New York, are pointed out and corrected. The opinion will be read with interest by all, as it affects the interests of nearly 80,000 men who are serving or are about to serve under the one hundred days' call :-

lett.— his Excellency Horatio Seymour, Gover-nor of New York, Albany, New York.—The President directs me to inform you that a Rebel force, variously estimated at from fifteen to twenty thou-and men, have invaded the State of Maryland, and have taken Mardinsburg and Har-per's Ferry, and are threatening other points; that the public safety requires him to call upon the State Executives for a millifactorie to repel this measing. He therefore directs make a this invasion. He therefore directs me to call o yon for a militia force of twelve thousand men from your State, to serve not more than one hun-dred days, and to request that you will with the utmost despatch for eard the troops to Washin ton by rail or steamboat, as may be most expe ton by rail or steamboat, as may be most expeditions.

Please favor me with an answer at your earliest convenience.

EDWIN M. STANTON,
Secretary of War.

On July 21, General Sandford issued and published the following order:

HEADQUARTERS 1ST DIVISION, N. Y. S. N. G., New York, July 21.—General Order, No. 6.—The Major-General publishes, for the information of this command, the following section from the act of Congress passed Fighruary 24, 1864, entitled,

"An act to amend an act for caroling and calling out the National forces, and for other purposes," approved March 3, 1864.

Section 10. Be it further enacted, That the following perapproved March 3, 1864.

Section 10. Be it further enacted. That the following perors be and they are hereby exampled from smoothing and deart under the provisions of this act, and of the act which this is an amentment, in will—Subshaw are rejected to physically or mentally unit for the nervice, all person actually in the milliarry or havel service of the Driest states at the time of the draft, and all persons who has served in the hallmary or mand service two years during the present war, and been honorably discharged there from; and no persons but such as are businessessable be exempt.

It will be a manufacial.

It will be perceived by this section that the members of those regiments ordered on duty when mustered into the service of the United States for 100 days will be exempted from the draft which is to be made in Septembernext. The regiments desirnated in Division Orders No. 24, as forming part of the quota of this State under the President's call for 12,000 militis from the State, are requested to complete immediately their preparations to embark for hwith for Wash-ington. Those refusing or neglecting will be disbanded. By order of Major-General C. A. Sandford, ALEN. Hamilton, Division Inspector, (Official)—Charles W. Darling, A. D. C. At the present date, July 26, it is understood that these millia, except two regiments, heretofore mustered in, are withheld from service, by order of the Governor of New York, in consequence of an objection to a decision of the Proyost Marshal-General, that these milliamen are not, by reason of their being mustered into the service, exempted from the draft ordered to take place the 5th day of Saystander and and the service. ace the 5th day of September next, and from ne to time thereafter, until the quotas required

Shall be filled.

That the objection raised by the Governor of New York is purely theoretical, and may never become of the least practicable importance, is apparent from the following considerations:

Although it is clear that by the 10th section of the act of February 24, 1864, such as are rejected as physically or mentally unfit for the service, all persons actually in the military or mayal service of the United States at the time of the draft, and all persons who have gerved in the military or mayal service two years during the present war, and have been honorably discharged therefore. will be exempted from the draft, yet the question of exemption of the hundred days' militia of New York will not arise, and no claim for such exemption can be made under the act, unless the oldler claiming the exemption shall be actual n the military service of the United States at the ime of the draft. Questions of exemption by reason of mental. or physical unitness, of age, of two years ser-vice and honorable discharge therefrom, or ex-emption of being in the service, must be settled according to the state of facts at the time when the questions are to be decided.

The militia of New York having been called to meet an emergency for a term not exceeding 100 days, may all be discharged from service before the draft shall actually take place; they may be discharged at any time by the President, and he is not bound to retain their services any longer than the public necessity requires them.

If the draft ordered on the 5th of September should be postponed, or not completed on that day, no question of exemption can arise, except when the person claiming exemption is in the military service of the United States at the time when he shall be personally drafted. No draft will be required of New York, if that State shall fill its quots with volunteers. Hence for this reason the question may be purely a theoretical one. So also it will be borne in mind the exemption from draft is a personal privilege to be used by and for the benefit only of the per-son drafted; he may prefer to waive his exemption, and to remain in the service. The question of the right of exemption arises only between the Government of the United States and the indiddual concerned. The statement of the law by General Sandford in the General Orders above cited, is founded on a misapprenension of the meaning of the statute. It is erroneous to say "that the members of those regiments now mustered on duty, when nustered into service by the United States, for one hundred days, will be exempted from the draft which is to be made in September next." But by the true construction of the act, those per-sons only who shall be actually in the service of the United States at the time when their respecive names shall be drafted, will be exempted m that draft, if such exemption shall be duly Very respectfully, your obedient servant, Wm. Whiting, Solicitor of the War Department.

"Union Avenue."-The portion of the Sanisry Fair Buildings known as Union avenue has been purchased by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and will be temporarily placed at West Philadelphia, in Market street, below the Junction Railroad. It will serve as a passenger depot for the Pennsylvania Railroad until a more permanent one can be sreeted. At present the passenger depot and ticket office or the company are at the corner of Fleventh and Market streets. These will be removed to the Union avenue build-Increase will be removed to the Curon avenue building as soon as the necessary arrangements can be unde, which will require about a month. The extensive and steadily increasing business of the company requires a more ample depot than the present one presents, and the new plan will be an acceptable one to the community.
